

THE CHAOS BREAKER™

Why do we keep reacting to prompts in unwanted ways (fight, flight, freeze, or submit)? How can we increase resilience and stay in our windows of tolerance? Disrupt unproductive behavior cycles and realize more individual and group promise. Increase adaptability so you can persist through and excel in adverse conditions. Get unstuck and weather storms. You just need a key.

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS

(ADAPTED FROM LEARNING FORWARD)

- Professional Expertise: Professional learning results in equitable and excellent outcomes for all when stakeholders apply trauma-informed care practice standards to life and work, develop high emotional intelligence, and prioritize and develop critical areas for personal growth.
- Implementation: Professional learning results in equitable and excellent outcomes for all when stakeholders understand and apply cognitive-behavioral change processes, use qualified guidance, and implement and sustain strategies for continued development.

LEARNING TARGETS

1. Given I understand trauma-informed care practice standards, I develop high emotional intelligence in life and work.
2. Given I'm empowered with a simple behavior change protocol, I apply cognitive-behavioral change processes, employ qualified guidance, and implement and sustain strategies for continued development.

SKILLS PROGRESSION

*From low to high rigor and depth of knowledge (DoK)

1. I execute or repeat basic skills or procedures (e.g., follow step-by-step directions or pattern) to develop high emotional intelligence in life and work.
2. I create an infographic or visual to show connections or to summarize key ideas (e.g., cause-effect, increasing adaptability, impacts of trauma, signs and symptoms) from trauma-informed care practice standards.
3. I empower a simple behavior change protocol (e.g., THE HB-X™) using cognitive-behavioral change processes and vulnerable honesty to prioritize and develop critical areas for personal growth.
4. I apply understanding in a novel way, use qualified guidance, and implement and sustain strategies for continued development to enhance growth.

3. Given I'm vulnerably honest, I prioritize and develop critical areas for personal growth.
